

Welcome to Chile

Chile has a coastline of over 3,000 miles, but at its widest is just under 200 miles. Santiago is the capital, located in the fertile central valleys bounded on the west by a coastal range of mountains and on the east by the mighty Andes Mountains, forming the frontier between Chile, Bolivia and Argentina. It is in these valleys that some of the finest wines of the Americas are produced. The Aquitania, Maipo, Cachapual, Casablanca, Colchagua and San Fernando Valleys (just to name a few!) boast outstanding wines, each with unique characteristics created by the different micro-climates. The quaint seaside resort of Vina del Mar and the intriguing Pacific port of Valparaiso are a scenic two-hour drive west of Santiago. Mysterious Easter Island lies alone out in the Pacific. The northern half of Chile is the Atacama Desert, home to rich mineral wealth as well as ancient pre-Colombian civilizations, whose relics are well-preserved in the world's driest desert. The beauty of the lush forests and pristine lakes of southern Chile, known as the Chilean Lakes Region, lure travelers from all over the world. The massive glaciers and rugged peaks of the Towers of Paine in the southern-most latitudes of the Patagonia rival the Rockies and Alaska for scenery.
